Introduction

On October 2, 2025, Kitsap Public Health District hosted the 2025 Kitsap Community Health Priorities (KCHP) Progress Summit at the Norm Dicks Government Center in Bremerton, Washington. About 60 community partners attended, representing approximately 30 organizations.

The purpose of the KCHP Progress Summit was for community partners to come together to connect with each other and participate in the following objectives:

- Listen to a community partner panel speak on meeting basic needs in our community
- Hear about KCHP workgroup strategies and short term action steps
- Have opportunities to share how we can keep making progress
- Learn about social connection and resilience

The Summit aimed to cultivate a welcoming space for multisector partners to address the themes of progress, possibility, connection, and hope. It was especially important to uplift the great work that has been carried out in our community despite shifts and disruptions at the federal level.

If only we're brave enough to see it. If only we're brave enough to be it."*

Progress Summit Agenda

The Summit opened with welcoming remarks from the Health District followed by a presentation describing what the KCHP is about.[1]

Two main events and a series of activities throughout the Summit inspired community partner input, insights, and a deeper understanding of the progress KCHP workgroups have accomplished over the past year.

To wrap up the the Summit, Kitsap Strong (which originated from a past KCHP cycle) presented on Hope & Resiliency, describing relational connection as a form of prevention and intervention.

Celebrate and Capture Achievements of All

Activity #1 asked Summit Participants about a collaborative achievement that they or their organization was proud of being a part of.

In response to this question, 41 individual responses were received highlighting the following achievements:

Community Partner Panel

The Community Partner Panel provided an opportunity to learn more about initiatives throughout Kitsap that seek to improve strategies to meet basic needs. The panel addressed aging and long-term care, food access, economic opportunity, transportation, and childcare. We learned how partners are addressing basic needs, each rooted in their missions, including:

Community Partner Panel

Ever present during the panel discussion was the theme of connection. With so many community partners facing funding cuts, the need for creative partnerships and collaborations are expected to grow. And ways our community can continue to support include:

- Telling someone about the services offered by the Kitsap County Division of Aging & Long-term care (360-337-5700)
- Explore what it looks like to develop your own nourishing network to address issues
- Given the opportunity to share what needs are coming up, wrap up meetings with commitments
- Keep our community involved and at the table for important discussions.
- Continue to share out community engagement opportunities and more

Healthcare Healthcare Systems Workgroup

Short-term Progress: Collective Marketing

About: Design an online recruitment tool for healthcare professionals and those early in their career.

Over the past year we have:

- Identified a host for the website
- Gathered input from healthcare providers on the design for the website, and created a “mock page”

Next steps:

- Work on the content for the page
- Identify the various ways the page can be promoted

The mockup shows a webpage layout with a header "HEALTHCARE" and a sub-header "Healthcare providers serving Kitsap are dedicated to quality patient-centered care. In addition to caring for the community, healthcare organizations strive to foster a thriving healthcare workforce and early career professionals." Below this is a section titled "What Kitsap Has to Offer" with a sub-sub-header "Looking to practice in Kitsap? The area has a lot to offer." The main content area is divided into several sections: "Healthcare Services" (image of a doctor, "Links to healthcare providers in Kitsap", "See more" button), "Kitsap Providers" (image of two healthcare professionals, "FAQ template /dropdown", "Find a provider" button), "Careers & Pathways" (image of a woman holding a resume, "FAQ template /dropdown link to career pages", "Explore options" button), "Lifestyle" (image of a sunset over a lake, "link to KEDA Life+Work page", "See more" button), "Community Health Assessments" (image of a healthcare professional, "FAQ template /dropdown", "See more" button), and "Education" (image of a woman holding a book, "FAQ template /dropdown link to career pages", "See more" button). The background features a large image of a Kitsap County landscape.

Progress Share out

The goal of Activity #2 was to understand the extent to which the KCHP community believes that progress has been made towards each priority goal. The feedback from the KCHP community will be used to inform next steps in implementation and evaluation within each priority area workgroup.

After a representative from each priority area workgroup presented on progress completed over the past year, KCHP meeting participants were asked to answer the following question on a printed worksheet:

Question: After hearing the presentations today, do you believe that the workgroups are headed in the right direction towards each priority goal?

For each KCHP Priority Area, please select one checkbox and let us know your thoughts in a few sentences.

Yes. Keep up the good work

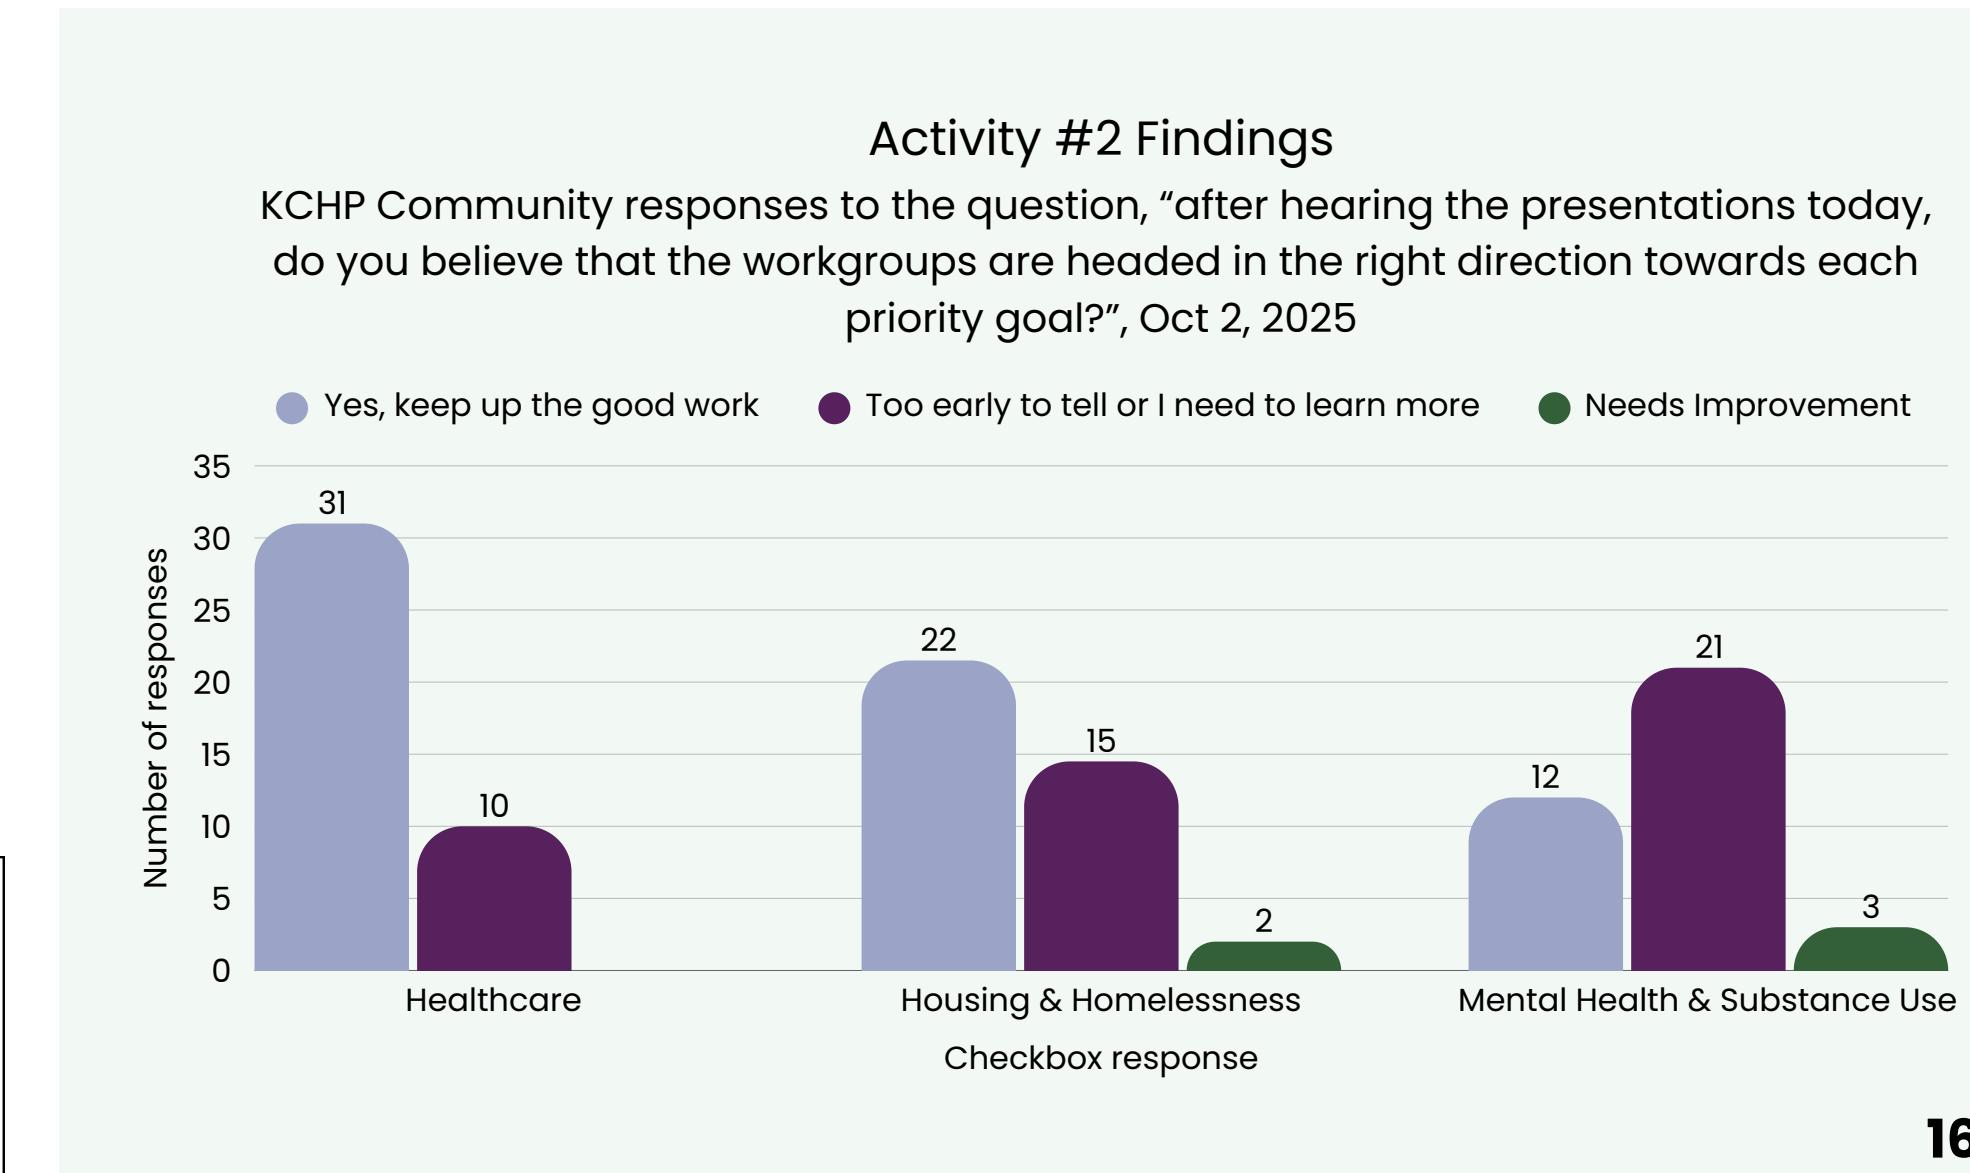

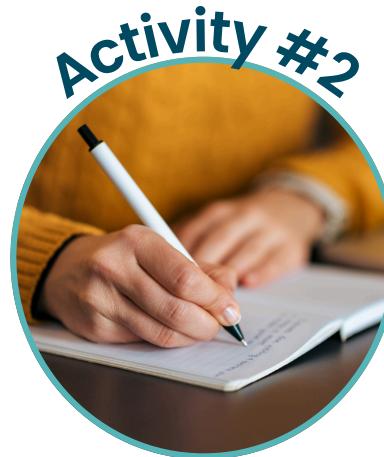

Too early to tell or I need to learn more

Needs improvement

Please use this box to elaborate and/or offer suggestions:

Feedback on Progress by Priority Area

Summarized themes from the written feedback are presented in Table 1 within each priority area. Common themes that appeared across at least two priority areas included 1) evidence of strong collaboration between workgroup participants, 2) suggestions to partner with community-based organizations (CBOs) to address basic needs and increase access to providers, and 3) suggestions to educate the community about solutions and to address stigma.

Wrap Up: Kitsap Strong Closing Presentation

To bring the Summit to a close, Kitsap Strong, a former KCHP strategy, presented on the themes of hope and resiliency. The presentation demonstrated the ways that relational connection is a vital tool for prevention and intervention. The presentation ended on the following prompted question:

When we come back next year, what will it look like for us to have moved forward in the spirit of connection and relationship?

- Excited to see each other and hear about our collective work. Tables of project partners, fewer introductions. Unless – there's such a draw to collaborate we outgrow the room! More diverse engagement.
- I would like to see significant progress in the three priority areas in terms of increases in affordable housing solutions, reduction in opioid deaths, increased connections to agencies that are not "siloing" resources and greater pathways to healthcare opportunities for young parents, children, seniors and budding providers. More than the results, we need Olympia to prioritize providing stable funding and policies to help uplift our great state and its people.
- Care, connection, community, call to action, completion.
- Being able to showcase more partnership and innovative collaborations.
- Moving forward with housing plans. Blue prints.
- Organizations from opposite ends of the support spectrum(s), maybe who never knew there was a need to fulfill that would bring them together, will be building/implementing a program that raises hope and fosters success in the collective community.
- We can recognize and/or name more folks in the room.
- More Kitsap presence in Peninsulas Early Childhood Coalition, nourishing networks, consortiums, etc. Solid social isolation plan for Kitsap. Follow-up data on childcare, healthcare workers, prenatal care, all the "deserts" in Kitsap so we can formulate next steps. More collective impact conversations with Kitsap Strong facilitation.
- Housing, education, nutrition, public safety, would all be working together to reduce the impact of poverty throughout Kitsap County.
- Continued alignment in supporting our community with more housing, healthcare and behavioral support.
- Accountability in our actions with one another. Collaborate with good intentions and being wholly transparent. Growth (examples of failed ventures and how you had to pivot)
- Have a greater understanding of how all our programs intersect and leverage existing relationships to expand community partnerships.
- Tangible connections that would have resulted in actionable directions. Ideas + strategy + connection = change
- More housing in progress
- Less homelessness and more community. Less food insecurity and more healthy options. Open communication and more collaboration. Partnerships.
- Re: 3 categories/priorities. I/we will continue to learn about the priority we engage in less. Meaning continued learning over the year.
- Continued connection, continued hope, continued hard work.
- I hope we won't have to wait one year to come back together. Collaboration takes time!
- Moving forward by more partnerships, funding, and collaborations to continue the forward momentum.
- More community collaboration forming a stronger foundation.
- Helping a community partner achieve their goals by leveraging our own resources.
- A coordinated synchronized week long event across community partners.
- Many of the people in the room will connect with others on a new effort.
- Cohesive, coordinated
- I will personally be more connected with more people in the room
- Stronger relationships
- Relationships – measured change
- Cohesion
- Need update on behavioral health access
- Innovative community problem solving. Strategic transportation.
- A collaborative presentation between teams with perceived different goals.
- We've advanced innovation solutions by creating uncommon and strengthening partnerships. We've connected the dots between the priorities and basic needs.
- All providers/partners have a more comprehensive understanding of how our individual missions intersect

Questions and Answers:

- Question: Have you considered marketing to the military spouse/veteran community for healthcare jobs?
  - Answer- Provided by Kitsap Public Health, KCHP Healthcare Systems Workgroup
    - Overall, the Healthcare Systems Workgroup has discussed recruitment and retention, and who, broadly. For example, veterans such as individuals who have served as U.S. Navy Corpsmen have been discussed and Olympic College offers a CS: Corpsman/medic to practice nurse program to support career growth. The collective marketing webpage aims to highlight community factors that are important to support spouse/families such as what it is like to live in Kitsap, schools, job opportunities, and more.
- Question: Caregivers are essential to their own families as well as the families they provide services for. Switching from family care to patient care, leaves little room for self care (mentally & physically). What is being done to address this and help foster emotional awareness/support for caregivers to that they can be equally available for themselves and their families, and patients?
  - Answer - Provided by Kitsap County Aging and Long Term Care
    - Kitsap Aging and Long-Term Care offers a few different programs and suggestions to support caregivers. Our Intake team can walk people through the variety of programs and complex scenarios by calling the main office line 360-337-5700.
    - Family Caregiver Support Program (FCSP) is unique to others as it treats unpaid caregivers as the identified client. Services and supports through FCSP are intended to benefit caregivers. Respite (personal care hours) for care receiver is sometimes part of this as it allows time for caregivers to spend on their own self-care.
    - Other programs (Medicaid COPES, Tailored Supports for Older Adults) will sometimes pay family (non-spouse) to be paid caregivers, which can alleviate some stress of having to maintain full-time employment while also providing caregiving. We also have information on support groups that can be beneficial.
    - We also offer educational workshops throughout the year, as well as a monthly e-newsletter at no cost to our community.
    - We offer a Caregiver Resource Library at our main office in Port Orchard.
- Question: Many elderly persons serve as the flagship and/or caregivers of their families. What do you notice are the biggest struggles for these families when that flagship figure transitions to care?
  - Answer - Provided by Kitsap County Aging and Long Term Care
    - Time management (lack of enough hours in the day) certainly comes up frequently. When those same caregivers transition to needing care themselves, it can be mentally exhausting as their loved ones they are caring for still try to depend on them for support. We often run into situations where married couples each participate in certain services as care receivers (COPES and TSOA).
    - We are also noticing more male caregivers over the years. Currently, in Kitsap we notice it is about equal male to female caregivers.
    - We are also serving older caregivers (to spouses or younger adult children) as people live longer.
    - Caregivers are often unaware of the caregiving journey. The Dementia Roadmap is a helpful resource to assist with planning for future care needs.
    - Often, there is a need for a back-up plan should the caregiver require care themselves. If the Caregiver is a spouse, figuring out a "Plan B" is helpful even if the caregiver will be away for just a short amount of time. Typically, another family member, friend, or neighbor can help look after the Care Receiver. If there is no one else in the picture that can step in to assist, and depending on the level of care needs that the Care Receiver has, having a conversation with the Aging Disability Resource Network (ADRN) / Information and Assistance (I&A) staff will help pinpointing concerns, troubleshoot issues and make resource recommendations. For clients that are case managed through our local programs, we help navigate through potential solutions and make recommendations that will suit both Caregiver and Care Receiver.
- Question: Could Kitsap Public Library partner with food on the Go to Deliver books to seniors too?
  - Answer - Recommendation to connect with local food banks such as Fishline (mobile food market) and Bremerton Foodline to learn more.
- Question: Is there a collective list of resources available in Kitsap County?
  - Answer - Recommendation to reach out to the Housing and Homelessness Coalition
    - Updated in 2025, the Coalition provides a Community Resource Guide available for download by accessing: <https://kitsaphhc.org/>
